Senior Network Health

Staying in your own home gives you a stronger sense of independence and well-being.

Senior Network Health (SNH) is an alternative to traditional nursing home care. It is a managed long-term health care plan for individuals who need assistance with day-to-day health maintenance and support activities, but want to live in the comforts of home with the caring faces of family and friends nearby.

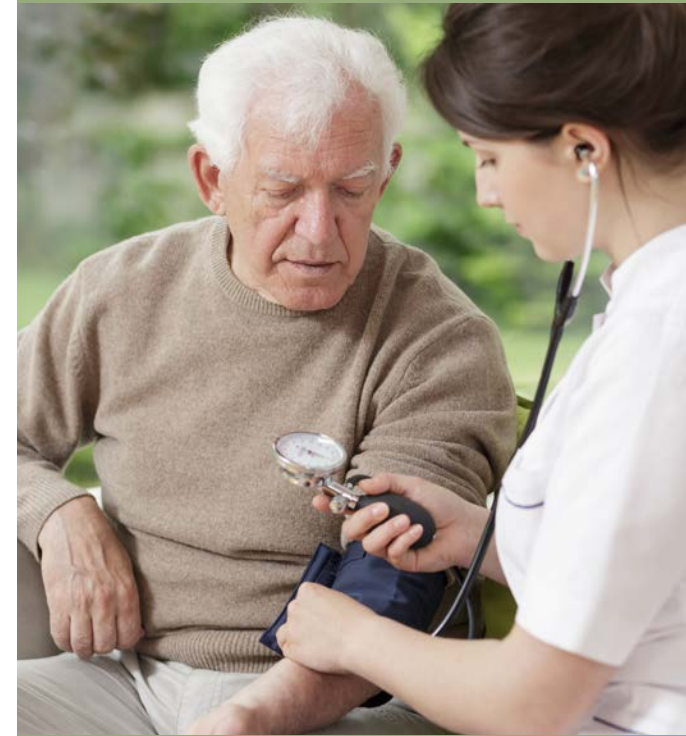

Unlike traditional home care services, SNH is structured around personalized care management and an extensive number of community-based, long-term care services. Our nursing professionals will create and coordinate a plan of care that is designed to fit each member's individual care needs.
